LOCATION

The Law School is held in the City of Portland. The lectures are delivered at 7:15 p. m., in the Chamber of Commerce Building. Each lecture with the accompanying recitation lasts about one hour. Lectures in the junior year are on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Seniors are required to review the junior work in the second year. The coming session opens Thursday, October 8th, 1903.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All persons, irrespective of sex, are allowed to matriculate in the Law School. Applicants for admission to the first year class must be at least eighteen years of age and to the second class nineteen years of age.

Graduates of universities or colleges, and students who have completed an academical or high school course, are admitted to the Department without examination as to preliminary acquirements, and may become candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In order to be entitled to this privilege, however, the applicant should present to the Dean of the Department evidence that he comes within some one of the classes named, which should be in the form of a diploma or certificate, or a certified copy thereof.

All other applicants will be required to present satisfactory evidence that they are prepared to pursue the work with advantage to themselves and without disadvantage to the school.

At the close of each year students are examined on the subjects studied during the year, and before graduation they are required to pass satisfactory examinations on all subjects included in the course.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

The course of instruction extends through a period of two years of eight months each. It cannot and does not pretend to compete with the three year courses of many eastern universities, which devote a great deal of time to the history and development of the law. The aim of this school is to give its students as thorough and practical an education in the principles of law as the length of the course will permit, and to prepare them for practice in the courts of any state, but particularly in those of Oregon. Recognizing the advantages and disadvantages of the exclusive use of either the lecture or the case method, the faculty endeavors so to combine lectures with the use of text-books, and especially with the careful study of illustrative cases, as most thoroughly to qualify the student for the active work of his profession. The character of the instruction imparted in the Department of Law is sufficiently attested by the success attained by its graduates, an unusual number of whom have held important official positions in various parts of Oregon.

The following is a statement of the subjects upon which instruction is given, with the time devoted to each subject:

First Year.

Elementary Law—Blackstone, Books I, III, and IV. Twenty-four lectures. Mr. Gantenbein.

Elementary Real Property.—Blackstone's Commentaries, Book II. General Laws of Oregon. Twenty-four lectures. Mr. Gantenbein.

Contracts.—Parsons on Contracts. General Laws of Oregon. Forty-one lectures. Mr. Gantenbein.

Second Year.

Pleading and Practice.—Gould on Pleading. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Title I–V, inclusive, and Titles VII and VIII. Twenty lectures. Judge Northup.

Equity Jurisprudence.—Bispham, or any other recognized authority on Equity. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Title VI. Twenty lectures. Judge Sears.

Evidence.—Greenleaf on Evidence, Vol. I, or Jones on Evidence. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Titles IX–XI, inclusive. Twenty-one lectures. Mr. Gantenbein.

Negotiable Instruments.—Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Sections 4403–4594, inclusive. Nine lectures. Mr. Gantenbein.

Constitutional Law.—Black on Constitutional Law. Twelve lectures. Judge Gilbert.

LIBRARY

The only books with which students are required to provide themselves are those used for purposes of text-book instruction. Parsons on Contracts is used as a text book for the reason that, in addition to the general law of contracts, it contains the principles of law governing the various topics, such as agency, partnership, sales, guaranty and suretyship, bailments, innkeepers, carriers, patents, copyrights, trademarks, shipping, insurance, domestic relations, etc., thus obviating the neccssity of purchasing text-books on each of these subjects of the law of contracts.

Students in the Law School are allowed to use the Multnomah Law Library in the County Court House, free of charge. This library contains the reports of every state in the Union, the reports of the federal courts, and numerous English reports, together with an extensive collection of treatises and text-books, both English and American, and copies of the statutes of the several states and of the United States. New reports, as they are issued, are added, as are new text-books and treatises of merit.

DEGREE

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred upon such students as pursue the full course of two years and pass the required written examination. Students who have attended another approved law school for a period equal to one year of the course of this School of Law, have taken the senior year's course in this school, and pass a like examination, will also receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

FEES

The tuition fee is sixty dollars per year, payable in equal installments on the first day of October, January and March. Regular attendance is required and no deduction will be made on account of absence. The final examination fee is ten dollars.

For students taking special courses the fee will be at the rate of one dollar per lecture, payable in advance. Special students may, on application to the Dean, receive an official certificate of attendance, showing the subject or subjects pursued, and the degree of attainment.

Applications for admission and requests for further information will be addressed to

C. U. GANTENBEIN,
Dean of Law School,
Portland, Oregon.

LOCATION

The Law School is held in the City of Portland, which offers to the student of law many advantages not possessed by other cities. The District and Circuit Courts of the United States hold regular sessions, the four departments of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the Fourth Judicial District, the County Court of Multnomah County, and the Municipal and Justices' Courts are constantly in session, where questions touching every branch of the law are daily heard and determined.

The lectures are delivered at 7:15 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce Building, in the center of the City of Portland. Each lecture with the accompanying recitation lasts about one hour. Lectures in the junior year are on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; in the senior year, on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The seniors assemble at 8:30 p. m. on Saturdays. The twenty first session opens Tuesday, September 20, 1904.

The holding of the lectures and other exercises in the evening enables bank and government clerks and other persons engaged during the day to avail themselves of the privileges of the school.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All persons, irrespective of sex, are allowed to matriculate in the Law School. Applicants for admission to the first year class must be at least eighteen years of age, and to the second year class nineteen years of age.

Graduates of universities or colleges, and students who have completed an academical or high school course, are admitted to the Department without examination as to preliminary requirements, and may become candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In order to be entitled to this privilege, however, the applicant should present to the Dean of the Department evidence that he comes within some one of the classes named, which should be in the form of a diploma or certificate, or a certified copy thereof.

All other applicants will be required to present satisfactory evidence that they are prepared to pursue the work with advantage to themselves and without disadvantage to the school.

At the close of each year students are examined on the subjects studied during the year, and before graduation they are required to pass satisfactory examinations on all subjects included in the course.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

The course of instruction extends through a period of two years, of nine months each, instead of eight months as heretofore. Twenty hours have thus been added to the course on Criminal Law, twenty on Torts, twenty on the Law of Real Property, and ten on Corporations. It is the intention to extend the course in the near future to three years.

The aim of this school is to give its students as thorough and practical an education in the principles of the law as the length of the course will permit, and to prepare them for practice in the courts of any state, but particularly in those of Oregon. Recognizing the advantages and disadvantages of the exclusive use of either the lecture or the case method, the faculty endeavors so to combine lectures with the use of text books, and especially with the careful study of illustrative cases, as most thoroughly to qualify the student for the active work of his profession.

The lectures are held in the evening, and, so far as practicable, students who put themselves into timely communication with the Dean are connected with the best law offices of the city, where they have an opportunity of familiarizing themselves with the conduct of business and the practical duties of the profession.

The thoroughness of the instruction imparted is sufficiently attested by the fact that of the two hundred and fifty-two graduates of the Department of Law none have thus far failed to pass the state bar examination. The more difficult test of actual practice has been met with almost equal success by the graduates, an unusual number of whom are admitted to be leaders at the junior bar and have held important official positions in various parts of Oregon.

The following is a statement of the subjects upon which instruction is given, with the time devoted to each subject:

Junior Year

Elementary Law.—Blackstone's Commentaries, Books I, II and III, and the General Laws of Oregon. Forty lectures on Tuesdays and Saturdays, from September 20, 1904, to February 18, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

Criminal Law.—Exposition and illustration. Clark's Criminal Law. Criminal Code of Oregon. Twenty hours. Thursdays, from September 22, 1904, to February 16, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

Contracts.—Parsons on Contracts. General Laws of Oregon. Forty lectures on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, from February 21 to May 23, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

SENIOR YEAR

Torts.—Exposition and illustration. Bigelow on Torts. Twenty hours on Wednesdays and Saturdays, from September 21 to November 26, 1904, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

Pleading and Practice.—Gould on Pleading. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Titles I-V, inclusive, and Titles VII and VIII. Twenty lectures on Mondays and Fridays, from September 23 to November 28, 1904, inclusive. Judge Northup.

Real Property.—Exposition and illustration. Tiedeman on Real Property. General Laws of Oregon. Twenty hours on Wednesdays and Saturdays, from November 30, 1904, to February 18, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

Equity Jurisprudence. Fetter on Equity. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Title VI. Twenty lectures on Mondays and Fridays, from December 2, 1904, to February 20, 1905. Judge Sears.

Constitutional Law.—Black's Constitutional Law. Twelve lectures on Mondays and Fridays, from February 24 to April 7, 1905, inclusive. Judge Gilbert.

Evidence.—Jones on the Law of Evidence. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Titles IX-XI, inclusive. Twenty-one lectures, Wednesdays and Saturdays, from February 25 to May 6, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

Corporations.—Bellinger and Cotton's Codes of Oregon, Title XLI. Ten lectures on Mondays and Fridays, from April 10 to May 12, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Chamberlain.

Negotiable Instruments.—Selover's Negotiable Instruments Law. Bellinger and Cotton's Codes and Statutes of Oregon, Sections 4403-4594, inclusive. Ten hours, May 10 to May 26, 1905, inclusive. Mr. Gantenbein.

LIBRARY

The only books with which students are required to provide themselves are those used for purposes of text-book instruction, Parsons on Contracts is used as a text-book for the reason that, in addition to the general law of contracts, it contains the principles of law governing the various topics, such as agency, partnership sales, guaranty and surety, bailments, innkeepers, carriers, patents copyrights, trademarks, shipping, insurance, domestic relations, etc. thus obviating the necessity of purchasing text-books on each of these subjects of the law contracts.

Students in the Law School are allowed to use the Multnomah Law Library in the County Court House, free of charge. New reports, as they are issued, are added, as are new text-books and treatises of merit.

TEXT-BOOKS

The necessary books required by each student will cost, for new copies of the latest additions, as follows:

Junior Year

Blackstone's Commentaries (2 vols.)	$10 00
Clark's Criminal Law	3 75
Parsons on Contracts (3 vols.)	18 00
	$31 75

Senior Year

Bigelow on Torts	$ 3 00
Gould on Pleading	4 00
Tiedeman on Real Property	6 00
Fetter on Equity	3 75
Black's Constitutional Law	3 75
Jones on the Law of Evidence (3 vols)	6 00
Selover's The Negotiable Instruments Law	3 00
	$29 50

These books will be found very useful in professional practice and can frequently be borrowed or purchased second hand at a material reduction.

LAW FRATERNITY

A Chapter of the Phi Delta Phi Law Fraternity is established at the Law School and is in a flourishing condition. The following are its officers:

DEGREE

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred upon such students as pursue the full course of two years and pass the required written examination. Students who have attended another approved law school for a period equal to one year of the course of this School of Law, have taken the senior year's course in this school, and pass a like examination, will also receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

The diploma given to graduates is that of the University of Oregon, duly signed by the President of the Board of Regents, the President of the University, and the Dean of the Law Department.

FEES

The tuition fee is sixty dollars for the junior year and seventy-five dollars for the senior year, except to seniors graduating in 1905, to whom the charge will remain the same as heretofore, viz: sixty dollars per annum. The tuition is payable at the office of the Dean in equal installments on September 20 and on the first day of December and March. Admission to membership in the classes is not permitted until the fees are paid. Regular attendance is required, and no deduction will be made on account of absence, or for failure to begin at the opening of the year. The final examination fee is ten dollars.

For studeuts taking special courses the fee will be at the rate of one dollar per lecture, payable in advance. Special students may, on application to the Dean, receive an official certificate of attendance, showing the subject or subjects pursued, and the degree of attainment.

The right to change any or all announcements in this catalogue except, as to fees, is hereby reserved.

Applications for admission and requests for further information will be addressed to C. U. GANTENBEIN,
Dean of Law School,
Portland, Oregon.

ADMISSION TO THE BAR

For the information of students the following rules of the Supreme Court of Oregon are published:

RULE 26. The second day of the October term, and such other time at any term as may be ordered, on the written application of five or more persons desiring admission, shall be set apart as the time when persons desiring admission to practice as attorneys in the courts of this state may appear and present their applications, who having been examined in open court touching their qualifications for admission and found duly qualified, may be admitted to practice as attorneys and counselors at law in the several courts of this state. Applications for admission can only be made to this court.

RULE 27. Applicants for admission as attorneys shall be examined by justices of the supreme court, or under their direction, and only such shall be admitted as shall be properly learned in the common law, the law merchant, the principles of equity jurisprudence, the history and constitutional law of England prior to the Declaration of Independence, the history and constitutional law of the United States, the statute and constitutional law of this state, and the practical administration of the law. Such examination shall be conducted in writing, or partly in writing and partly orally, as the court may direct.

RULE 28. Each applicant for admission must produce the certificate of some attorney in good standing in this court that such applicant, if a graduate of some college or other literary institution authorized to confer degrees, has read law two years, or if not a graduate, at least three years; and that such applicant has the requisite learning and ability. There shall also be presented the certificate of two attorneys of like standing to the effect that such applicant is a man of good moral character. In case, however, the applicant produces a diploma from any regular law school or shows that he is a graduate thereof, then the certificate of his having read the time above indicated shall be dispensed with. The applicant shall also file his own affidavit that he is a citizen of the United States and of this state, or has complied with the statutory requirements in that connection, is over the age of twenty-one years, and has read the books, a list of which is included in his affidavit.
